“ Soc and I became friends in Kansas City while we attend KC College of Osteopathic Medicine; we were great buddies and he was a great aid to me...we lived in the same home in north Kansas City. I would recognized that grin anywhere. RIP Buddy. Doc

“ I was helping Sok paint his clinic on one weekend in the early seventies when a lady came to the door crying carrying a young girl who had stepped on a broken glass marble and had the glass embedded in her foot. He brought her in and cleaned the glass from the wound and bandaged it. The mother, still crying, said "thank you so much doctor, but I don't have any money. He said, I'm just the painter, you don't owe me anything. That was the Sok I remember.

“ So shocked to hear Doc Soc has passed on to heaven. He started taking care of my family when he first opened his practice there on Main St. in that old church building. Many many wonderful stories of this man, I truly loved the man and always felt safe in his care. To the whole Sokolosky family, I wish you peace from the Lord God. May your memories be as full of laughs and smiles as mine. All of you have a special place in my heart from the memories of growing up in Owasso during the 60's and the 70's. Thank you so much for all your kindness. Doc Soc was certainly one of a kind. I will always think of him as a great doctor and friend.
