“ Oh Sweetheart where do I even start..... You always said we would grow old together but evidently God had other plans even though I'm not sure what that might be but I got to trust him and keep going even through that can be tough to do I remember when you got pregnant with Gracie and saying you didn't believe it was real but it was you were the happiest person alive when our baby girl was born but don't you worry I have it from here you just rest and know I have this and I won't let you down I know you'll be watching over us as your giving Grandpa Tarwater heck The selfish part of me wants you back so badly but I'm at peace knowing you are no longer hurting and you can do so many things that you couldn't do down here I mean heck you have your perfect vision back and you don't have to be hooked up to oxygen and ect. Plus you get to eat all the food you want now without your diabetes getting in the way So have fun and save me a place up there and I will be united with you once again when my work down here is complete I love you so very much and I know you love us to XOXO 🌟💕💕💕

“ Where do I begin. Amber I love you so much. You have always been there when I needed someone to talk to. You were with me during my freshman year of high school guiding me every step of the way. When you graduated I still would text you for advice or just to vent. You meant the world to our family. We will all miss you. Please keep guiding me. Because you know that sometimes you're ole cousin here needs help. Love you 💕
