“ Dear friends, as most of you know, I (Rick Neumann) have friends from many different circles. However, I want you all to know that my dear older sister, Candy, passed into heaven this afternoon among many answered prayers. The Lord allowed me into the hospital to spend her last hours with her even though the hospital was closed to visitors. The staff on the third floor were incredible. Candy knew the Lord Jesus as her Savior and never doubted. Her health had declined over the past months and today the nursing home felt the need to send her to the hospital. I met her there and saw the peace that passes understanding on her countenance until the very end. She never appeared to be in pain or anguish. I thank God Almighty that she came to know Him - the giver of peace. Candy is mostly noted by her family and friends as sweet Candy and those of you who knew her well likely agree that she was a sweet person.

Dear Peggy and Rick, we just learned of Candy's passing and are so very sorry for your loss. Her suffering and struggles are over, and we cherish the memories we were privileged to have made with her while she lived here in Moore, and her faithful attendance at the little Bible study at Langley Village. She was always so cheerful with a ready laugh which was so characteristic of her optimistic nature. We are thankful for her profession of faith in Jesus, it makes all the difference for comfort for those who miss her presence here on Earth. God bless you and those who loved her. With sincere condolences, Connie and David Chancellor
