“ Carl was my professor for Organic Chemistry and several other courses in the 1980s. He was a brilliant educator and demanded excellence from his students. 45 years later, and now retired, He made a positive impact on my life and I became a chemist myself. Sad to just find out of his passing these years later. My condolences to his family and friends. Glenn Speck.

“ I was very saddened to learn of the passing of Dr. Eddington. He was, in my view, the quintessential chemistry professor. He was my biochem and organic professor at ECU in the mid-80s.

I'll never forget the Henderson-Hasselbalch equation, primarily because of him drilling it into our heads and saying that he should be able to (and might actually) call us at 3 in the morning and demand we recite it to him. I think many of us believed he would.

My condolences to Susan and Mike and the rest of the Eddington family. He was a good man and his influence on his students will continue on for many years to come.

“ I was so very sorry to hear of Dr. Eddington's passing. He was my professor at ECU in Ada from 1972-1977. He was a wonderful man with a dry sense of humor that I just adored. He cared about his students and pushed them to perfection as far as they would allow. I have wonderful memories of him lecturing in class and will carry them the rest of my life. For his attention to detail and the desire for his students to excel I will be forever grateful. The one memory that stands out for me is his arrival or departure from school daily in his Thunderbird. May the good Lord bless his wife, Peggy, and his children and grandchildren with mercy and compassion during this time of bereavement.

“ The John Calvin Presbyterian Chancel Choir will miss fellowship with Carl. Carl had a happy, friendly presence and wonderful baritone/bass voice. I can only imagine how happy he must be singing now, he will not have to worry about the rest of us keeping up with him! Sing loud, Carl.

“ What a privilege and joy it was to work with Carl Lee Eddington as the Music/Choir Director of John Calvin Presbyterian Church, Tulsa, OK. His beautiful, deep, rich voice added so much resonance and musical quality to the Bass Section of our Chancel Choir!. Carl LOVED to sing and was always so enthusiastic! In addition to his wonderful voice, Carl was a kind, loving, gentile Christian man. Carl was also fun! Greeting everyone with a smile upon his face, we looked forward to seeing him clad in his colorful suspenders and matching neck-wear which were always season-appropriate for every occasion of the calendar year! God's comfort and peace to Peggy, Steven, Joseph and the entire Eddington family as Carl joins the Church Triumphant and Heavenly Choir.
