“ 'As Chad's mother, I want to thank All who took the time to share your thoughts on this page. If you donated to his daughter Jozie's college fund and do not receive a thank you card or reply, I apologize, I do not have addresses for all, and am not on Facebook. The responses in his honor has been astounding, but then, I think of his smile and personality and understand.'

“ 'Message I have only known Chad since 2012 here at work. Always with a baseball cap on and a smile the same size. We here at LTCS like to bring in homemade salsas and chips to enjoy or too punish each other with, depending on your particular taste for hot and spicy or pain thresh hold. Well Chad comes bouncing in the office too deliver some orders and there was a fresh concoction of hot salsa and a bag of chips. Now this takes place in the morning when most mortals are eating bacon and eggs not scorpion peppers and chips. Most of us had partaken of this bowl of punishment and I had two experiences at the same time. It was my first and last time I was going to try any more of that ! Chad on the other hand got a dollop on a chip and love the taste but shook his head left to right and stamped his foot unable too speak for a time . This went on for most of the day . He would pop in and get more and then shake his head and stomp his foot. I asked him why? He said it tasted so good ,the flavo'
