“ Chelsea came into my life as a student. Unfortunately she wasn't able to complete due to medical reasons. However, our friendship blossomed and stayed in touch. Both of us suffer from depression, so our friendship became a relationship. We helped each other with our daily problems. I developed a special love for her, though she couldn't say it to me, I knew in her aqua blue eyes that she loved me too. I will be forever grateful for knowing Chelsea, which made me a better man. Take your wings now and fly free. I will see you in heaven sweet angel. God speed and thank you for being in my life. I love you!!! ❤️❤️❤️

Mike and Martha,

My heart is breaking for your. I know you have so many wonderful memories of Chelsea.

One of my memories was shortly after she came into your lives, Mike you had her in your shoulder at training. Later she began sharing her wonderful job. It seemed to fit her perfectly. I enjoyed each of her posts.

You will forever miss your wonderful daughter but I know you will meet again in heaven.

May God give you peace. I know that Chelsea is waiting for you. Love, Betty Brandon
