

Deanna Lee McGuire

June 26, 1959 - July 22, 2025

Deanna McGuire, 66, of Claremore, Oklahoma, passed away on July 22, 2025 surrounded by loved ones. She leaves behind a legacy as unforgettable as she was.

Fiercely independent and unapologetically herself, Deanna brought strength and determination into everything she did. She poured her heart and energy into building a successful career and multiple businesses, and in her free time, could often be found with a paintbrush in hand, creating beautiful works of art. She loved the peace of the beach and cherished every moment spent with her beloved grandchildren.

Deanna was preceded in death by her husband, Kelly McGuire, and her mother, Betty Doll. Though their absence was deeply felt, her strength remained a guiding light for her family.

Her greatest joy was being a mother and grandmother. She is survived by her father, Ken Doll; her son, Jerrod McGuire, his wife Vanessa, and their three children, Erik, Reed, and Allyson; and her daughter, Carey Hoggatt, her husband Jim, and their two children, Jacob and Sydney. She also leaves behind her brother, Ken Doll Jr., her sister, Kelli Dawn Hughes, and their families—all of whom she loved deeply.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to BrightFocus Foundation to support the research into the disease that took Deanna from them — or that you simply perform an act of kindness in her memory.

Deanna will be remembered most for the love she gave to her grandchildren, who were the light of her life, even on her hardest days at the end.

“ I got to visit with Deanna when I visited my mom at Homestead, 2023-24. I always enjoyed getting to chat with her. She always had a smile and asked how I was doing. She often sat with me and my mom while we worked a puzzle or engaged in some form of activity. She loved getting her Pepsis from her dad. She made me smile. I'm sorry for your loss.
