“ Debbie was a good friend of mine. The way I remember that our friendship started was when Shari and I decided to resign from the Gazette editorship. Dave, Debbie and I were attending a car show somewhere that had a great little cafe. So, Deb, Dave and I chowed down together and since the coffee seemed to be bottomless, we discussed Dave and Deb taking over as Editors. And of course, they did and several hundred Gazettes later, here we are.

Debbie had lots of good traits that I did not know about; you will have to ask Dave and their kids and their kids. What I know is that Lady was a kind and gentle person.

She could and would make a great big pot of chili, with a table full of "goes with it" food. She would ask Shari and I to attend the feast, and Deb did not have to ask twice.

Dave and I will miss Deb a lot.
