“ I wish I could have done more for this man. He was always there for me. My uncle was the best man in the whole world man. Anyone who knew him personally was really lucky I hardly knew him but he helped me. I loved him dearly and it kills me emotionally that he had to go. I try to be happy he's no longer in pain but I can't I wanted to be there. I wish he knew at this moment how much I missed him. He had always done what was right but for now I know that maybe it's better if I only cry it out til the pain is no longer there. I love you uncle Johnny and I regret not being there for you. I love you. Rest in peace
