“ 'Judy and I meet 51 years ago, at a skating rink. I was 7 years old, she was 17. I thought she was the prettiest girl in the place. My brother was their and I guess he thought so to because they were married soon after that. We grew up to gather. Her love was unconditional. She loved with her whole heart. Once she loved you she never stopped. I will truly miss you. And you are still the prettiest girl at the skating rink. I love you.'

“ 'Judy was my partner in adventure. She was always open...open heart, open ears, open door. She always had time to listen, time to be a sounding board, and time to encourage, even when it was she who needed these things. The world was a better place with Judy among us. Heaven gets her now. See you later, my Judy. '
