

Leona Pearl Storck

December 16, 1945 - January 28, 2018

"

Tribute Wall

JB

“ Just thinking about Leona so much lately. Last night I did a Pampered Chef party for a host who I met at Lela Melson's party probably 15 years ago and I met Lela at one of Leona's first parties with me. As I shared a tip about keeping apple slices from turning brown for a week, I was reminded of who it was that gave me that tip so many years ago - Leona. People are always in awe. She knew so many things and was just so loving and selfless that I just miss her a whole bunch. Hard to believe this week will be a year that she has been gone. Missing Miss Leona and look forward to seeing what all she has done to make heaven a better place when we get there some day.

Jennifer Barnard

Jennifer Barnard - January 25, 2019 at 02:31 PM