“ I had the pleasure of working with Mel at American Airlines. I used to joke with his wife Lynn about how she ended up with such a “gruff guy;” she just laughed and said that was all an act.....away from us he was a big teddy bear who doted on her and cherished his kids and grandkids. He was quite the character and made a strong impression on me in the all too brief time we worked together.
RIP Mel.....and thank you again for your service.
