“ 'Today, I proudly wear my OSU shirt in Rick's honor. To be invited with Rick to a game in Stillwater was always a great time and Rick filled drive with conversation as only Rick could and tailgating spread was always amazing. Rick was one of those rare individuals who had a friendly welcome for everyone, whether in Oklahoma or Alaska. His fisherman's tales from Alaska were backed up by photos that were good enough for National Geographic and he always made you feel that if you were willing to make the trek to Alaska, he would love to show be your guide. I'll miss Rick both professionally and as a friend. He was such a great ambassador for OSU.' ”

“ ‘Rick will be greatly missed by those who had the privilege of knowing and working with him over the years. I especially liked his sense of humor and the ability Rick had to defuse a tense situation with a joke or comment. He was the best at his job and I know he will be greatly missed by Sherry and the rest of his friends and family. ’
