“ You must have passed away shortly after we spoke for the last time. Finding out you are gone has upset me more than I ever possibly thought it would. There were many times I thought about driving to Owasso and knocking on the door, just so we could hang and talk about music just like we used to. Now that I know it's not possible, I feel a little empty. You were a great friend and brother. I will always remember the time we spent together making some of the most wonderful music never heard. Love you man, sorry I tried to reconnect to late.
