“ My favorite story of Sharon that I always reminded her of: At a big family dinner at Aunt Norma's house when Sharon was little, Sharon wanted to help, so someone gave her the job of washing the celery. There was a bathroom right off the kitchen, so she went in there to do her job. When she came out, she was asked if she got it clean, and she said, "it ought to be. I washed it in scalding hot water!" In her hand was the proof. Totally wilted stalk of celery. Loved my cousin. Twyla Collins Dixon

“ I will miss Sharon and all the times we spent talking on the phone over the years. Sharon was one of the kindest people I know, always giving of her time helping others, never thinking of herself. She will be missed by all who knew her, Rest In Peace Sharon and we will meet again and have the Greatest Reunion ever with Our Lord.
