“ 'Message When I was growing up, Sue was one of my cousins favorite fiends. My cousin was Linda Cacy Scott from Stillwater, OK. So I saw Sue lots--we played together and went to church together, went to OSU together. My cousin Linda also had cancer and died at the age of 54. Sue and I were with Linda just days before she died. Sue later moved to the Tulsa area and joined the quilt guild and my stitch group. It was so nice to be in touch with her again. One time when I was teaching a class at the Cotton Patch, Sue arranged for my cousin to be there to surprise me. Sue was so thoughtful. Sue was also a hoot. She did always have a smile on her face, always cracking people up, and was always upbeat and positive. I had just learned recently that Sue had cancer. It was such a shock because I was diagnosed myself last year. I couldn"t believe it. I wanted so much to talk to Sue before she passed because I know what she is going through. But I am comforted by knowing that she and L'
