“ My husband , Butch Bowyer, was Synoma’s nephew and has wonderful memories of her and her family, especially while visiting at her home and also when the family would all meet at Grand Lake. He loved her very much and sat with her at son David’s memorial service, holding her hand. Butch still kept in touch with Synoma after David’s passing - until the phone number no longer worked. Butch was concerned about Synoma’s health and reached out to the only living relative he knew - Zac. After leaving messages several times for Zac at his office, explaining his desire to talk to Synoma or at least hear about her well/being my husband gave up. We never received a return call. Now we know that Sonoma passed away. My husband still has those wonderful memories, such as all of the family Thanksgivings together, however he is sad to have missed additional time with her. How wonderful it would have been to bring those sweet memories back to her as well. She was a great person and is still dearly loved.
