He worked for Marriot Hospitality Services for eight years. He then worked for Rae, Corp., in Pryor, Oklahoma, for over 15 years, in the header department building headers for heat exchangers. He loved to work with his hands, which included working on cars and building things out of wood or metal. He loved to play pool and sing karaoke with friends, and he loved all kinds of music. He loved his children, his adopted children, and his loving wife very much. He was a very loving man who accepted just about anyone he met into his life.
