“ Condolences and prayers for family and friends who are missing Tom.

Remembering Tom...for over twenty years plus we worked together in the Young Marine Program. From Encampments, Leadership Schools to Parades and Ceremonies Tom was always ready to help with whatever needed to be done. And we were always the last to leave after a YM activity, securing the area for turnover. Of course most of the YM's had no idea how much work the Adult Staff put in to make their events a success. That will come later when they look back and realize that their Young Marine days were the best days!

The Young Marines always looked forward to Tom's Teamwork Exercises and games. And Tom always had a nice cold Coke waiting for him afterwards!

Thank you Tom for all the years of dedication to family and friends and to the thousands of Young Marines we met along the way. Rest easy.

Until Valhalla.

“ I don't know where to begin....I will definitely miss you, and your smart a remarks. 😂 I know you loved each and everyone of your family members, even me! I was always your favorite and it showed, even though you'd say “who invited you” every time I walked in. RIP Tom....youre in a better place now!

“ I have been putting off writing on your obituary because it makes this become all to real. How do you say goodbye to someone that meant the world to you. There is no words that can express my grief or how much I miss you everyday. I am beyond grateful to God for choosing you to be my dad. You have always there for me when you were able. You were a pain in the butt on occasion but that was you. You are not here to ask me when the garage is going to get cleaned or what my next house project is. I miss walking into your house and you not being there to ask what we bought. I miss calling mom and hearing you yell “is that my daughter on the phone”. I want you to know I will take care of mom and we will make caramel corn in your honor whenever possible. You were my daddy and I will miss you here on earth everyday. I love you dad❤️

“ I have been putting off writing on this obituary because it makes it all too real. Dad, I miss walking into the house and seeing you sitting on the sofa asking me what I bought now. I miss calling mom and you yelling in the background if it was your daughter on the phone. I miss your crazy butt dials on the phone. When mom pulls up in the driveway in the driveway, I expect you to get out of the car. Im not sure how this life will ever be the same without you in it. I am so incredibly grateful that God chose you to be my dad and that I have so many memories of the time we spent together. I will make caramel corn in your honor. You know that I will take good care of mom. I love you dad ❤️

“ Tom is the love of my life. We met in high school got married and spent our years raising 2 children. We were always there for each other through life's little moments for 54 years. I will miss him terribly but know he is with me and we will spend eternity together. I told him to save us all a place when we get to Heaven. God is beautiful.

“ Tom was a part of my life for so long that I don't really remember when we first met. It had to have been in late elementary or early middle school. He was friends with the oldest son of our neighbors around the corner. He drove a blue Chevy Nova that he was very proud of and would “turn the corner on two wheels” (according to my dad) and speed past our house. My dad would go out and flag him down and tell him to slow down. Soon after that, he began dating Phyllis (Jo), my sister. Tom spent a lot of time at our house and would tease me and my friend Marlene relentlessly and, of course we would tease him back. After high school he joined the army and he became my brother-in-law. I will never forget the way he would always greet me with a smart remark which I would quickly return. He was always fun to be around. The best thing about Tom was how well he treated my sister and how he would have done anything for those he cared about. You were one of the good ones Tom and I will miss you! Rest in Peace until we are all together again! 🙏❤️🙏
